FAIRS HELP FAIRS

The big Tri-State Fair at Memphis has just closed. The big Oklahoma State Fair is just finishing its latest successful season.

In more than a dozen counties in Arkansas there have already been held the most successful county fairs ever known in their history.

Instead of these being in competition for the Sixth Annual Arkansas State Fairs they should be feeders and probably will be.

The closing hours before the fair should be marked with special activity in the matter of urging the big exhibits of all these fairs to the great state fair here.

Already in the horse department and stock department of the fair here there are more entrants than ever before. This is not confined to the racing departments, and while they are well filled, the stalls at the great Oklahoma course will be thronged with all kinds of prize winning stock.

Oklahoma, Tennessee, Mississippi, and other surrounding states, have put up their prize exhibits at other places, but they have not really exhibited their products proper until they have been seen at the Arkansas State Fair.

The county fairs of Arkansas should get busy and turn out their best products for competition here. There was never such an opportunity to put Arkansas in a position of favorable comparison as exists just now, and if the people are awake to the opportunity, this will be the greatest fair ever held in this section of the south.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and then the opening.

Old Glory looks good in the breeze, anyhow.

The best way to make it a success is to push now and then have your say afterward.

Old October is slowly but surely identifying itself.

The prizes are given by the State Fair association, dear reader.

Incidentally, many car loads of exhibits are arriving and being placed.

Also, the live stock is the thing in state fair circles.

Get it done today, because tomorrow may be an unlucky Friday.

It isn't so much who opens the state fair just so it is wide open.

As a "Get Out From Under" the present gubernatorial incumbent is declared a round-about success.

This is an Arkansas State Fair and Arkansas as a rule is in the game up to its eyes.

What Hot Springs needs is one more good round season when there will be no faces missed.

The Baltimore American boast fully proclaimed that Taft was firmly nailing down the republican planks.

Implements used in nailing the republican campaign lie will soon be in great demand.

There is food for thought in the idea that it is better to be right than harmonious.

The elusiveness of a vote is some times compared to a golf ball and the contrast is a striking one.

It is suggested that the oft-used expression, "As sweet as sugar," be changed to "As dear as sugar." Are you ready for the question?

The T-J bill that was to decrease the tax rates so the state could have more revenue, is still the conundrum of the period.

From Eastern Arkansas there are reports that the people of that section are coming to the fair with bells on.

When the Postal Savings' bank opened in Los Angeles, bank clearings took a leap and broke all high ump records. It was not regarded in expression of faith and confidence in each, shown in honest competition.

The latest of interest in the legal game is the decision of the supreme court of California, upholding the constitutionality of the law forbidding the use of slot machines and other mechanical devices. Like many another statute it is liked and disliked.

It will be something of a task for the president, after designating a lay, to find sufficient cause for the people to be thankful as usual, on the last Thursday in November. But he governors will accept the date suggested, and the people in the various states can be duly thankful as they deem just and proper. When on the March day a democrat shall be inaugurated as president of the United States, the people will find their burdens lighter, their tasks fewer and less of the oppression of the toilers by the magnates who rule the commercial and financial world today.

DIED OF INJURIES

Austin, Pa., October 4—William Vasmund, coach of the University of Texas football team, died today as the result of injuries received from a fall from his room window early Sunday morning. It is supposed he walked in his sleep and thus sustained the fall which burst his bladder and caused his death.

Vasmund was the last player to play four years under "Hurricane" Ford of the Michigan team and was considered one of the foremost football players in the United States being mentioned for the All American team at one time.

Attorney James E. Hogue has returned from a visit to New York and eastern resorts.

HER AILMENT A COMMON ONE

Happy Experience of Mrs. Dillinger, Who Finally Found Relief in Cardui, the Woman's Tonic. West Baden, Ind.—"For about four years," says Mrs. Sarah Dillinger, of this place, "I suffered with an ailment common to women and I was so poorly that I could not do my work."

Since taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, I am stout, and able to work all day, hard. It is certainly a great medicine for women. I recommend it to a great many ladies."

My daughter is now taking Cardui, and it seems to be helping her already, although she has now taken only one bottle.

Cardui is the best medicine I ever took. It has done me so much good, I saved my life, and I can't praise it too much."

Every woman would always keep Cardui handy, for use when needed, for she knew what benefit it gives in cases where weakened vitality makes her body and brain seem tired and worn-out.

A few doses of Cardui, at the right time, will often save much suffering by preventing a more serious sickness.

To relieve pain and misery, due to womanly troubles, nothing has been found, during the 50 years that it has been before the public to take the place of Cardui.

Won't you try it? N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper on request.

Lame back is one of the most common forms of muscular rheumatism. A few applications of Chamberlain's Liniment will give relief. For sale by all druggists.
